Mac Frampton
World renowned Concert Pianist

It is hard to put into words how Mac Frampton steps on stage and takes the audience by storm. You almost don't know what hit you. He's an incredible performer that leaves you speechless. Some performers just have that "IT" factor and he's one of them.

At a young age, Mac's dream was to play the piano like Roger Williams and also with an orchestra. Using his creativity with two large hands and ten long fingers, he learned to create his own orchestra. His career has taken him all over the world, over 4000+ concerts, the distinguished honor of being the soloist for such orchestras and symphonies as The Boston Pops, Mantovani, St. Louis, Milwaukee, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Jacksonville and Atlanta. To round out that achievement, he's also had the privilege of sharing the stage with such greats as "Glen Campbell" and "Roberta Flack" and many more.

Founded in 1987 by violinist Allen Ames and classical guitarist Maryanne Kremer-Ames, Lyra uses classical and electric instruments to create a lively concert format with many styles of music. Maryanne's experience as a symphonic percussionist, and Allen's self-made five and six-string violins, give Lyra a musical range far beyond the standard violin and guitar repertoire.

Lyra has performed hundreds of engagements all over Arizona, as well as California, New Mexico and New York. The duo has been featured on television and radio broadcasts in the Phoenix area, performed and recorded with the Phoenix Symphony Orchestra, and played with Dave Brubeck in his "Fiesta de la Posada" Christmas cantata.
